

SAYS 90 BARRELS OF BOOZE IS HIS DRINKING CAPACITY

New Yorker Wants It Within Elbow Reach, as It Shrinks in Warehouse.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Daniel Pollock of New York has applied to the District Supreme Court here for a writ of mandamus to compel Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair to sanction the removal of ninety barrels of whiskey from a Baltimore warehouse to the Pollock home in New York, and thereby stop a steady leak that has reduced the hoard from what was 4,650 gallons some twenty years ago to but 550 gallons at present.

Numerous appeals to Blair met only with refusal, the petitioner complained, and since the prized liquid diminishes mysteriously but regularly in quantity and since it costs him $55 a year for storage in the warehouse, he decided to seek court authority to move it to his own cellar. He bought it in December, 1919, he said.

Pollock described himself in his suit as "a young man in his thirties and in easy financial circumstances, who devotes most of his time to the handling of a large estate, he being one of the executors thereof," and added "that in view of his age and condition in life he anticipates the consumption of all the said whiskey in his home during his lifetime and in a perfectly legal manner."

FIRE LIEUT. D'AZEVEDO DIES AFTER OPERATION

Was President of Department
Band Three Years.
Fire Lieut. Joseph J. D'Azvedo, President of the Fire Department Band, died last night in St. Luke's Hospital following an operation on Monday for intestinal ulcer.

Lieut. D'Azvedo was born in St. Thomas, West Indies, forty-two years ago. He was appointed a fireman in 1905. In 1913 he was promoted to the grade of Engineer. Three years ago he was elected President and executive officer of the band. He built the Firemen's Band up from an organization of fifty men to its present personnel of 116. He resided at No. 1151 Clay Avenue, the Bronx.

SHOE PRICES TO JUMP IN SPRING, IS FORECAST

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Shoes are going up in price, according to the Western Association of Shoe Manufacturers, in season to-day. The price rise will average about 75 cents a pair retail and will be felt first in the spring.

A radical change in styles for men also will be announced. This will be a tendency toward very broad toes, virtually square.

For the well-developed figure

The woman noted for her well-groomed appearance and graceful poise realizes that the corset is as important a part of her costume as the frock and chooses it with as much care.

L. R. Corsets for large women are designed with comfort as their keynote, on modish, slenderizing lines. Well-made in every detail, and firmly boned to give the figure a trim silhouette.

The medium high bust gives the necessary support above the waistline.

The long skirt, made very pliant by insets of elastic over the thighs, is reinforced over the abdomen.

In white coutil; sizes up to 86 in. waistband.

Smart Suit is new as it can be

A suit, to be in fashion, must be interesting, or this is a season of the individual tailleur.

Here is one of black duvetyn, perfect in silhouette and detail because all that goes to make it reflects the Paris mode.

—black moleskin, the new use of moleskin—in pockets and deep bandings.

—the soft, short jacket, belted with heavy silk cord elastic to give it that slightly bloused Russian look.

—the draped skirt, shorter on one side and banded, too, with fur.

Hudson Seal Coats, $325

Dyed Muskrat. Carefully selected skins—deeply furred

The Fur Salon has had a special group of 40-inch coats made with beautiful deep shawl collars and cuffs of skunk. We especially chose this fur for trimming because of its increasing vogue in Paris. It is so flattering to the complexion.

Slender and wrap around models. Fine silk linings. Heavy silk cord girdles or belts of the fur.

A New Metal Brocade from Paris—

The Carnival of Venice

Echoes of the colorings and fashions in vogue in Venice in the days of her glory have been coming back to us in one form or another, ever since the Bal du Grand Prix at the Opera in Paris last June.

The Carnival of Venice is one of the latest of these beautiful Parisian creations

A black ground becomes vivid with spots and clusters of coloring in baskets of flowers, bright yellow, turquoise blue, rose red, purple. Over all is showered a fine powdering of gold—woven in gold metal thread.

One of those silks, which in spite of its daring colorings and the bizarre nature of its concept, is yet wearable because it is essentially beautiful and feminine in its effect.
